  - Ice the shoulder 20 minutes per hour for the first 72 hours while awake
    - Be very careful when applying cold directly to the skin in limiting how much time it is used to avoid cold burns
    - If a cold therapy unit has been supplied, it is for home use. It will not be placed on you at the time of surgery. If there are any problems or questions with the unit, please contact the provider of your unit.
    - After the first 72 hours, ice the shoulder at least 3 times a day and especially after physical therapy sessions
    - It will work through the dressings

- Swelling & Tingling
  - It is normal to have some mild swelling, tingling, or numbness after surgery
  - Taking the arm out of the sling and resting it on a pillow can help, if necessary

- Dressings
  - Dressings can be taken off 48 hours after surgery
  - The incisions will have small pieces of tape over them called “steri-strips.”
    - Do not remove the steri-strips covering the small incisions
    - The steri-strips fall off after one week or can be removed ten days after surgery
    - You can replace the dressings with band-aids, if desired
  - There may be drainage for the first 48 – 72 hours from the incisions. This is normal
  - You may take a shower immediately but do NOT get the dressings wet
    - Once the dressings are removed, you can use soap and water on the wounds

    - Therapy may have you take off sling occasionally if swelling occurs
  - Do NOT lift your arm or use it to carry anything
  - Do NOT move the arm out from your side to write or use a mouse
  - Do NOT guard the arm and keep the arm relaxed at your side
- If we are doing surgery for stiffness, physical therapy begins the day after surgery, and the sling is only for comfort
